

Dr Alison Gardner

Dr. Alison Gardner is an experienced public sector professional with expertise in local governance and public policy. She leads 'Slavery-Free Communities,' a ground-breaking programme of research focused on strengthening local and place-based responses to modern slavery, specialising in collaborative action-research and appreciative inquiry methodologies. 'Slavery Free Communities' is part of the University of Nottingham's 'Rights Lab', a global research 'beacon' which aims to end contemporary slavery in our lifetime.

