

Alison Scowen

Alison is a Senior Public Affairs Manager within the Policy & Campaigns team at the Co-op Group. She designed Project Bright Future, the Co-op's unique employment initiative for victims of Modern Slavery and leads the Co-op's Modern Slavery campaign. The campaign incorporates advocacy for victims' rights, awareness raising amongst colleagues, customers and members in addition to Project Bright Future. The Co-op was recognised for its work on Modern Slavery in 2017 when it won the Thomson Reuters 'Stop Slavery Award'. Alison is a former Head of Public Affairs at eBay UK and recently spent 12 months of secondment at the Department for Education developing a communications strategy on teacher supply.

